and what have you

by BOB CRAIG

With all of the fuss over the presidential election this year very few Texas voters realize that at the bottom of the General Election ballot will be four amendments to the Texas Constitution.

Two of the amendments are on the controversial side, while the other two are not drawing much interest.

Amendment No. 1 on the ballot is one of those local matters that seem to always crop up as a constitutional amendment when if the state had an up-to-date constitution they would not come before the whole state. It creates hospital districts in Lamar and Hidalgo counties and in Precinct 4 of Comanche County. This should probably be passed and then those involved decide if they want to pay for the hospitals at a later date.

Amendment No. 2 would let the Veterans' Land Board pay up to 3 1/2 per cent interest on its bonds. Present limit is 3 per cent and they are having trouble selling the bonds. Since this will not cost the taxpayers any money it has not been much of an issue.

Amendment No. 3 would allow annual salaries of $4,800 for members of the Texas Legislature and allow up to $12 per diem expenses the first 120 days of session. This is one of the amendments that has drawn some discussion and if this had not been a presidential election year it would have caused even more. The main argument for the amendment is to get better qualified men to serve in the state legislature.

Amendment No. 4 the so-called "loan shark" amendment is the most disputed of the four. Present limit on interest rates under the Constitution is 10 per cent. There are no penalties for violation. There are many legitimate small loan operations. There are also many unscrupulous small loan firms which take advantage of people in desperate need. Interest and supplemental charges by the unscrupulous push rates on their small loans up to as high as 300 to 400 per cent or higher.

The amendment would empower the Legislature to classify loans and lenders, license and regulate lenders and define rates. The 10 per cent rate is an impossible one for the small loan with its book work and its risk. The 300 and 400 per cent must be stopped. Texas' top legal and political leaders support this amendment and most other states have this type of regulation.

On the Presidential election coming up we find ourselves just about as confused as most of the people we have talked to seem to be.

James Roberts in his column, "Drifting Sands," in The Andrews County News expresses our position better than any other writer we have read.

Since it is better said than we could say it, we are running part of his column below.

One of our good Democrat friends, who would no more consider voting against the Democratic ticket than he would against God, mother and the American flag, accused us Thursday of favoring the Republican arguments.

"Friday morning, a good Republican friend who has adopted Republicanism as a newly discovered religion, charged us with giving the Democrats the best of it."

"Nuts to both of them."

"As a matter of fact, we find ourselves in the same boat as that facing a good number of Americans this day and time—hung up on dead center."

"We can find a few good things about the platform of both parties and an even greater number of items in each with which to violently disagree."

"On the traditional straight line representing political leanings we find that we can neither move too far to the left toward liberalism nor too far to the right toward conservatism."

Cotton Acreage Allotment Increase Planned for '61

College Station—A national marketing quota of 15,562,000 bales and a national acreage allotment of 18,398,424 acres have been proclaimed by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson for the 1961 crop of upland cotton. Both are increases over those for 1960.

The secretary also set December 13 as the date for the referendum on 1961 upland cotton marketing quotas. A two-thirds favorable vote will be required to keep marketing quotas in effect for another year.

Secretary Benson said, "It is significant that it is not only possible to increase cotton acreage for 1961, but that it is essential to do so in order to maintain a desirable supply situation. We are moving in the right direction when our farmers have more freedom to plant."

The United States is currently seeking to maintain and improve the position of cotton both at home and elsewhere in the face of rising competition from synthetic fibers and foreign-grown cotton. In order to maintain adequate cotton stocks, an increase in the national quota was needed. To produce this quota, based on the average yield of 406 pounds per planted acre for the 1956-

59 period, the acreage allotment was set.

The national allotment for upland cotton will be apportioned to the States, the State allotments to counties and the county allotment to farms according to the provisions of law. Individual farm allotments will be made available to producers prior to the December 13 referendum.

If supporters approve marketing quotas for the 1961 crop in the referendum, price support will be available to those who comply with their farm allotment at a level within the range of 70 to 90 percent of parity. The exact level will be determined at a later date.

If quotas are voted out, the allotment program will remain in effect and price support will be available to cooperators at 50 per cent of parity, as provided by law.

Paving Started On N.W. Ave. B

A large crowd of on-lookers were on hand Wednesday when work was started on the soil-cement stabilization of the first blocks of Hamlin's paving program.

Work was started on the first block and a half of a North-West Ave. B.

Brannan Contractors, Inc., of Victoria, who were awarded the contract by the city, have been working since the weather cleared preparing the roadbed for the stabilization.

A huge one pass stabilization machine is being used by the company to mix and pulverize the soil and cement. This is then shaped with a blade and rolled until packed down to the proper grade. After packing, the street will be sprayed with a bituminous material to seal it.

The pavement will later be completed by the addition of a bituminous surface.

GUAR AS A CASH CROP BEING STUDIED BY LOCAL GROUP

Guar is being seriously studied by the Agriculture and Livestock Committee of the Board of Community Development, as a cash crop for a commercial market and as a soil builder, according to R. L. McClung, chairman.

This study is the result of a joint meeting with the Industrial Committee to hear Ernest Rusch, assistant vice president of the Stein Hall Co., Inc. of New York, tell of his company's need and uses for the guar seed.

Rusch, who was in the Southwest to look over possibilities of greater raw material development, said his company would guarantee market price for all that could be raised. This year's market price was $3.75 per hundred sacks. The average yield per acre is 600 to 800 pounds. Some varieties yield as high as 1,200 pounds.

Rusch also said that a semi-processing plant would be located in the area producing the most guar.

The results of the study shows that this area is highly favorable, that guar is drought resistant, resists root rot, increases yield on following crops, is easy to combine, and provides added income for farmers. The market is substantial and demands will increase as more uses for the gum base are being discovered.

Warren Harding Elected President

November 5, 1920

Many hours ago the big newspapers of the land carried to every corner of the country the news that Warren G. Harding, the nominee of the Republican Party had received an overwhelming victory for the presidency over his opponent, James M. Cox, nominee of the Democratic Party. It now only remains for the small country weekly to make a few short remarks on the result and to pledge their loyalty to the incoming new administration.

The American people have the privilege of changing their governmental officers every four years and regardless of the country a change of administration is desired. We find that the Republican Party is once more in full possession in every branch of the government.

Here is hoping that the League of Nations will yet be entered into by this nation in some form that will show to the world that we are willing to shoulder our responsibility in preventing or at least lessening the possibility of war.

Most of the business houses will be closed all day, November 11th, Armistice Day.

I have bought Joe Dillingham Barber Shop. Am here to stay. I have First Class Workmen, we guarantee all work strictly first class.

Burglars Hit Hamlin Monday Night

November 1, 1935

Monday night was a good time for burglars, it seems, judging from what was taken from three places.

First a person or gang of persons broke into the Gulf Station operated by Pribble Holt and lifted about $50 worth of casings, mostly the smaller size.

Across the street is Bob Smith's Station and when he opened up Tuesday morning his cash was gone—$53.80. The visitors left no cards saying who they were.

Casings and money will take a fellow a long way but flour is also essential. Therefore, the Fred B. Moore feed house was broken into and about 15 sacks of good flour was taken. Well, it's good time to watch out.

This Carnival, expected to be one of the largest of its kind ever held in Hamlin, will consist of nearly fifteen booths. Every class in the High School will participate in this big event.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—For years a chain link fence marked the back boundary of the Austin State Hospital grounds.

Sturdy and forbidding, with in-turned barbed wire at the top, it was a fence that suggested the plight of the people it confined. It was a depressing, prison-like, mile long fence that paralleled Lamar, one of Austin's busiest boulevards.

Now, each spring, Austinites make a point of driving out Lamar to see the mass of climbing red roses covering the fence. Today this long stretch of roses is a symbol of the change that has come to state hospitals during the past 10 years as a result of volunteer services.

University engineering students donated and planted the rose bushes. Thousands of people over the state have landscaped the grounds, redecorated the dining halls and reception rooms, built swimming pools, given parties, conducted classes, wrapped gifts and in hundreds of other ways brought beauty and warmth to state hospitals and schools.

In its fall report, the State Hospital Volunteer Services Council shows that volunteers gave 163,904 hours of time to state institutions during the past year. Figured at only $1 per hour and adding in contributions of food, clothing, prizes, furniture, etc., volunteers enriched life in state institutions by more than $538,996 during the year. This does not count considerable sums collected for all-faith chapels at several schools and hospitals.

Last year, 36,000 citizens went into 18 different state hospitals and schools to do volunteer work.

Impact of these volunteers is two-fold, says Miss Helen Colburn, coordinator of volunteer services for the State Hospital Board.

First, they help to create a pleasant environment which gives patients a better chance to respond to medical treatment.

Second, the volunteers learn the problems of the hospitals and schools and are an effective force in educating the community as to the needs and goals.

"State money can't be spent for pictures or parties or swimming pools," said Miss Colburn. "It has to go for beds and food. But these other things are important. Patients respond to environment, and they respond to people. And they know the difference between people who are paid and people who come to help them out of sheer kindness."

Right now the volunteers are getting ready for their biggest undertaking of each year—Christmas. It means securing, wrapping and tagging about 26,000 gifts to keep up a three-year record of having a gift for each patient in the state system. It means decorations, trees, parties and caroling. In some cases it means setting up shops where patients can get gifts to send to their families—often more ardently desired by the patient than a gift for himself.

RATE DECISION POSTPONED—State Board of Insurance voted 2-to-1 not to accept a recommended 13.3 per cent rate increase in certain types of auto insurance.

Board members R. W. Strain and Ned Price said they wanted to study the new safe driving plan more before approving any rate changes. They have been at odds with Board Chairman Penn J. Jackson who has recently advocated abolishment of mandatory merit rating. To scrap merit rating, said Dr. Strain, would penalize the 70 per cent of drivers who earn a discount for good driving records.

Board also refused by a 2-1 vote to allow insurance companies to disregard penalties against drivers involved in accidents presumably not their fault. This must be decided by a court, said Price and Strain.

Very few drivers seem to mind paying higher accident insurance rates because they are involved in accidents. But many do resent the assessment of a penalty based on traffic tickets issued. Especially tickets that they feel were not warranted.

Still others contend that they are insuring their cars against accidents and not insuring themselves against traffic fines. Therefore if they are paying a premium for fines they should be reimbursed for those fines.

AVERAGE SPEED LAWFUL—Average speed of Texas passengers cars on rural roads is 55.9 miles per hour, reports the State Highway Department.

This is below the legal limit of 60 miles per hour on most stretches of highway.

Average speed of buses, however, is 60.7 miles per hour. Trucks average 51.2 miles per hour. Legal limit for trucks and buses is 55.

Statewide speed survey is taken by the Department each year with concealed radar devices. Department found that 19.3 per cent of passenger cars were exceeding 60, a 2.6 per cent decrease from last year.

STUDENTS GALORE—Texas is getting set for a bumper crop of college graduates in the sixties.

Commission on Higher Education reports the highest ever enrollment—90,035 students in the 18 fully supported state colleges and universities.

This is up 5,391 from last fall and a 60 per cent increase over 10 years ago. Biggest enrollments (in state schools) are at the University of Texas, Texas Tech, North Texas State, Arlington State, and Texas A&M, in that order.

Biggest gains this year were UT and Arlington State.

ROAD LAG AVERTEDE—Release of additional federal funds will largely prevent an expected winter slowdown of highway work in Texas, State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer announced.

Only the November bid letting will be affected, said Greer.

This month the Highway Department tabulated low bids totaling $19,030,137 for highway work. Next month the contracts are expected to total only about $12,000,000 but by December the total should be increased to about $17,000,000 or $18,000,000.

This will mean fewer workers laid off for the winter by contractors doing state highway work.

SHORT SNORTS—Texas Railroad Commission announced that the eight-day oil production pattern will continue through November, making seven consecutive months of wells shut down 22-23 days a month. Daily allowable will be 2,667,508 barrels. Texas cotton acreage allotment for 1961 will be 7,849,196 acres, the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture announced. This is a slight increase over this year's 7,377,151 acres.

A son, Roberto Gutierrez, arrived to Mr. and Mrs. Polo Ruiz on October 18, weighing five pounds and eight ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hopkins, of McCauley, have a son, Michael Alfred. He arrived weighing seven pounds and three ounces on October 19.

A daughter, Tomme Maree, arrived to Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Warrington of Roby, October 20. She weighed seven pounds and two ounces.

LIVESTOCK FEEDING METHODS TO BE OBSERVED ON WTCC TOUR

College Station—Many areas of Texas have the ingredients—plenty of grain, livestock and favorable climatic conditions—to make livestock feeding a profitable operation. In order for the interested farmers, ranchmen, bankers and agriculturists to get first hand information on how successful livestock feeding operations are carried out in the Corn Belt, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with Texas A&M College and Texas Tech College, is sponsoring a tour into the heart of the nation's great feeding area.

Dean Emeritus W. L. Stangel of Tech's School of Agriculture and chairman of the Chamber's Agriculture and Livestock Committee will serve as tour leader. He extends an invitation to anyone interested to join the group which will leave Texas on November 26 and return on December 1.

Travel will be in Pullman cars with departures from both Lubbock and Fort Worth on the afternoon of November 26. The cars will be put on the same train in Kansas City. The first stop will be in Chicago to attend the world famous International Livestock Exposition where the judging of fat livestock will be observed including carlot champions and the naming of the grand champion fat steer of the Show. Visits will also be made to processing plants to inspect carcasses of fat cattle.

From Chicago, the tour will move to Iowa State University where livestock feeding specialists will take the visitors to farms for observations and discussions with farmer-feeders. Dean Stangel said, "We hope these personal contacts will cause our own farmers and ranchmen to take a closer look at their operations and determine whether or not livestock feeding might offer a new source of income. We believe many will see opportunities for such programs."

In addition to the farm and feeder visits, the tour members will also see the vast research facilities at Iowa State University and hold discussions with national leaders on feeding and management problems.

Most county agents and local chambers of commerce in West Texas can supply detailed information on the tour. It can also be obtained by writing the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Box 1561, Abilene, Texas. Reservations should be made as soon as possible, Dean Stangel said.

Primary Voting Not Binding on General Election, Daniel

AUSTIN—Voting in the Democratic Primary does not obligate anyone "legally or morally" to vote for the Democratic presidential nominee in the general election, Governor Price Daniel said today.

The pledge on the primary ballot applies only to nominees selected in that primary for state, district and local offices,

Daniel stated in an interview with a Dallas Morning News correspondent.

Daniel was asked for his views on the matter after a statement quoting him was issued by the State Democratic Executive Committee as follows:

"More than 1,500,000 Texans affiliated themselves with the Democratic Party this poll year, under provisions of state law. It is the responsibility of all affiliated Democrats to carry their great strength into the general election in support of the party nominees."

Daniel told the News he did not mean to imply that participation in the Democratic Primary obligated a voter to vote for that party's presidential and vice presidential nominees in the general election.

THE ELECTRIC COOP Owned by Those we Serve

Most of us borrow money at interest to buy homes and we pay off our mortgage over a period of years. So long as we keep up these payments we "own" our homes. If we fail to make our payments, the lending institution can foreclose.

The Electric Cooperatives of Texas were built in exactly the same fashion. Members borrowed money at interest to build their own electric systems and they are paying back principle and interest while enjoying the blessings of electricity. There isn't a single cooperative in the state in arrears on its payments. Many of them have made payments in advance.

The Electric Cooperatives are owned by the people who borrowed the money and who are paying back their loans with interest.

That is why these member-owners can proudly say the Electric Cooperatives are OWNED BY THOSE WE SERVE.

FAIRVIEW NEWS--

By MRS. ELMER JOINER

Folks out our way have almost finished cleaning up after the wind and hail storm of last week. Since the rain has stopped and the sun has shone several days, some farmers have found they can salvage a few bales of cotton, some fields are a total loss. The hail skipped around like a tornado, may be one field was stripped bare and another nearby had quite a lot of cotton left. But taken as an over all picture it is a pitiful sight but folks are already talking about the hopes of another year, that is a farmer's hope.

Twenty four window panes were broken at the Fairview Baptist Church and the roof was damaged in the hail storm.

Mrs. George Wainwright had major surgery in the Stamford Hospital, Tuesday of last week. At last report she was recovering nicely.

Mrs. Doyle Combs has been on the sick list the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Combs of Loraine, parents of our pastor, were visitors at Church Sunday.

Sunday being Mrs. Howard

Combs' birthday, her son thought it would be nice to give her a birthday dinner at his home. When she arrived from church she was greeted by several relatives and friends to help her celebrate. Those attending were: Mrs. Doyle Combs parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herrington of Sweetwater; Mrs. Combs' daughter and family of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Halton and two children; Mrs. Combs' sister, Mrs. John L. Ashton, Rotan; and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Henry of the Plainview community.

Mrs. Raleigh Bond is a patient in the Hamlin Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hogan of Spur visited with her brother and family Sunday, the W. W. Goodwins.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Henry had as their guests last week end their son, Mr. and Mrs.

W. C. Henry and Jo from Elgin, and another son, Mr. and Mrs. Clois Henry and girl of Snyder visited last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. King, of Midland, spent several days last week with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rosenbaum.

Also visiting in the Rosenbaum home Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moss, Mr. and Mrs. George Moss, Anson, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Sullivan, Enach. Sunday visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moss of Lamesa.

Mmes. R. M. Jones, Flavel Holmes and Elmer Joiner visited Mrs. George Wainwright in the Stamford Hospital Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Fred Rosenbaum and her sister, Mrs. King, killed a rattlesnake in the Rosenbaum yard last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Waddel were both ill last week from getting so drenched when their windows were beaten out and their home flooded with water.

Family night will be celebrated Thursday night, Oct. 27, at the oil mill guest house in Hamlin with a Halloween party. There will be entertainment for both adults and younger folk alike. Come dressed for the occasion with masks and other costume. The party will start at 7 p.m. Visitors cordially invited.

A HUSBAND IN 'ROMPERS' NEEDS HELP

DEAR AMY:

What does one do about a man who assumes only a minimum of responsibility, yet freely admits his responsibilities verbally?

This guy has been in and out of jobs and businesses for the past 15 years and is still unable to bring home enough to keep body and soul together, despite the fact that he has no physical handicaps and has had a good education. Yet, we have no home, no bank account, nothing... and only through the generosity of a wonderful mother are we able to manage.

I have held a part-time job for the past three years although one of our two children is handicapped seriously. This child has been a tremendous challenge to me and needless to say, I have found the experience wonderfully rewarding. But, it would have been so much easier if my husband had pitched in and kept his side of the bargain.

Now I feel that I may be able to take on a full-time position, but am wondering if it would be a mistake, that perhaps I should call it quits, because I have just about run out of patience with this man who is still in rompers emotionally.

Ham-strung and Un-strung

Dear Un-strung:

Whether you work full or part time, it is not likely to stir a spark of ambition in a man who is still in 'rompers' emotionally. If, after all these years, he has not matured enough to accept the responsibilities of his family, he needs the help of a psychiatrist.

"Waiting for him to grow up can take a life time!"

Dear Amy:

We are readers of your column. On our recent trip to Mexico we saw a bullfight. I must say that never in my life have I witnessed anything more cruel and inhumane towards animals. I was thoroughly horrified and could not bring myself to see the rest of the fight. Isn't there anything that can be done about it? I would appreciate it very much if you would print this letter in your column to get other readers reactions and opinions about it. Since the animals can't speak for themselves, I undertook to do so!

An Animal Lover

Dear Animal Lover:

It's true that bullfighting (by American standards) is most inhumane, but in Mexico, this is a national sport (?) and is considered legal. As far as I know, there is nothing that can be done about it.

P.S. It's easy to recognize an American at a bullfight. He's the one who cheers for the bull!

Dear Amy:

Is it proper to send high school graduation invitations to aunts and uncles? I have ten children with one graduating every one or two years. I have sent for the two oldest, but hesitate to send again. What do you say?

Mrs. McKenna

Dear Mrs. McKenna:

It certainly is proper and you should feel extremely proud as each one graduates. You rate an 'A' for accomplishment!

Dear Amy:

I am 13. The other night my two best friends and I went out with several boys who are 17. I'll admit they just picked us up on the street, but they are real swell guys. This is the second time we went out with them. We told them we were 15 or else they would drop us because 13 is too young for them. All three of us look much older than we are so they believed us. The only trouble is our parents won't allow us to go out with boys, so we lied to them and told them we were just going out for a walk. We were all to be home at 9:30 but we didn't get home until almost midnight. Boy, were our parents sore at us. When they found out we were out with boys, we all got it with the strap. That wasn't so bad, but the three of us aren't allowed to go out with each other any more—not even to speak to each other.

What should we do? The boys asked us to go out again. Should we go? Don't you think we're old enough to date. We're not allowed to date until we're 15!

M.M.

Dear M.M.:

The three of you got exactly what you deserved! You disobeyed your parents' wishes, lied in the bargain and as if that wasn't bad enough, allowed yourselves to be 'picked up'. You have a great deal of growing up to do, my child, before you are old enough to date. The punishment fits your misbehavior!

Hamlin Edges Haskell For First District Win

Going for their first district win, the Pipers overcame a strong tribe of Haskell Indians here Friday night, 23-6. The Indians dominated the first and third quarters of play and led 8-5 in first downs at the half.

The loss was the Indians' eighth of the season, while the Pipers hold a 6-2 record.

With the exception of their second quarter touchdown which was set up by a 54-yard punt return by Stanley Austin, the Pipers could not get their offensive machine going until the final quarter.

The Pipers made their first first in the second half down on the play of the third quarter. Both quarterbacks, Mike Bond for the Pipers and Jerry Hadaway for the Indians, had trouble with their passes and their completion averages were below normal. Bond completed seven of 17 for 108 yards and Hadaway completed with five of 16 for 54 yards.

Frankie Lee was top ball carrier for the game with 68 yards in 15 carries. Dwight Stone led the Indians with 50 yards in 13 trips.

The Indians took the opening kick off and returned it 12 yards to their 30 from where Hamlin drew a 15 yard penalty on the first play. The Indians moved the ball down field to the Piper nine before surrendering it on fourth down.

Taking over on their nine the Pipers sent Lee into the line for five, Dave Bellamy for three and then Lee broke open for 11 yards and the first down. Dan Newberry carried for six and Lee went up the middle for 11 more. With a first down on their 45, the Pipers were penalized back to the 40 from where Bellamy carried for eight yards and Newberry two. Bond's pass try failed and Jerry Hadaway punted 20 yards to the Indian 30.

the Indians moved out to the Piper 46 where Larry Upshaw broke through and set J. W. Wallace back for a seven yard loss. Austin picked off Hadaway's pass on the next play and picking up good blocking made his way to the Indian 17 where he was knocked out of bounds.

Lee went over his left guard for eight yards. Bond fumbled and recovered for no gain and Lee picked up six more yards to the three. Newberry carried over his right guard for the score. Lee carried in for the two points.

After the kick the Indians moved from their 28 out to their 38 before punting to the Pipers 36.

Two incomplete passes and a four yard loss on a running play forced the Pipers to punt to the Indian 37.

The Indians punted from their 49 to the Hamlin 12 when their drive stalled.

Bond connected with Ford for 13 yards and then was set back for a 12 yard loss. Robert Brandon took a screen pass from Bonds for five yards. Bond passed to McCannies who in turn lateraled to Brandon for a gain of 24 yards. Bond's next pass try failed and Austin tried a long one that went incomplete. Another try by Bond failed. Hamlin was penalized five yards and then Bond passed to McCannies for 19 yards to the Indian 42 where the first half ended.

Jody Ford returned the second half kick off to his 35. With Newberry held for no gain, a 15-yard penalty and two incomplete passes by Bond forced McCannies to punt from his 19. Taking over on the Hamlin 43, the Indians scored nine plays later with Stone skirting his right end from five yards out. His try for the two points failed and the Pipers retained their lead, 8-6.

Gaining only three yards in three plays, McCannies punted 26 yards to his 48 for the Pipers.

The Indians moved down to the Piper 33, but on fourth down Hadaway was set back 12 yards when attempting to pass and the Pipers got the ball on their 45.

Gaining only five yards McCannies punted again on fourth down to the Indian 28.

With the aid of a 15-yard penalty against the Pipers the Indians moved out to the 50 before fumbling with Newberry recovering on his 44.

Lee picked up a first down with a 12-yard gain as the third quarter ended. Lee carried for four, six and three yards. Bellamy cleared his end for four and then Bond followed the same path for seven. Lee was stopped for no gain, Bond made four to the four, Haskell drew a two yard penalty and Lee carried for one to the one-yard line. Bond rode the middle of the line in for the score. He passed to McCannies for the two points that put the Pipers out in front, 16-6.

After the kick the Indians started play from their 33. The Indians picked up nine yards in two plays before Gary Williams set Hadaway back for a three yard loss and the Indians punted out to the Piper 38.

Bond passed to Lee for 13 yards. Ford went around left end for seven and Bond passed to McCannies for 21 yards. Bond's next pass fell incomplete and on the next one, pass interference was ruled with the Pipers gaining a first down on the Indian 15-yard line. Lee carried for two then a pass from Bond and raced into the end zone for the final score. Jim Cooper split the up-rights for the point after.

The two teams swapped pass interceptions after the kick with the Indians ending up with the ball on their eight. On fourth down the Indians punted from their six with the Pipers taking over on the Indian 18.

The Pipers got off two plays as the game half ended with the final score, 23-6.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

Regular inspection of your boat and outboard motor pays dividends.

Even if you use your boat only a few times a month, you should take it out of the water for a thorough check-up every 30 days. Do so every 60 to 90 days, even if you haven't used it at all.

There are sound reasons for this suggestion.

If you accomplish nothing more than cleaning the scum off the bottom, it will be well worth the time and trouble. A bottom encrusted with scum cuts speed a great deal. Far more than the average boat owner realizes. It causes a heavier pull against the motor and hikes fuel consumption.

With the introduction of the high-horsepower engines, continuous maximum boat performance is expected by most outboard owners. One factor, however, often is overlooked by the boat operator. That factor is the condition of the boat bottom.

Most everyone is aware of the effect of salt water on hulls. But not all boat owners realize the reduction in performance that occurs in so-called fresh water.

Billy Disch, Austin marine dealer, was telling me just the other day about tests recently conducted by Evinrude. They were eye-openers.

"One thing most people don't understand," said Billy, "is that results will vary with water and air temperature and according to the foreign matter present in the water."

In salt water the growth usually is in the form of barnacles and other marine life. In fresh water the growth is not as conspicuous in the earlier stages. It will first appear as a light film of scum which can be felt easier than it can be seen. However, this early stage of fouling can result in obvious loss of performance.

According to Billy, Evinrude equipped a 16-foot boat with a 35-hp. engine and checked its performance with various loads. Then it was left in salt water. At the end of 30 days the speed, with one man, had dropped almost 8 mph. With a six man load it lost 10 mph and would not plane.

This was not too surprising since salt water was involved. But, the next test was in fresh water.

The same sequence was followed. After 30 days the speed with two men had dropped almost 6 mph. A six man load showed a loss of almost 10 mph and planing was impossible.

In each case, where the hull was thoroughly cleaned, performances were restored.

The significance is obvious. If boats are left at moorings, they should have anti-fouling bottom paint in order that maximum performance can be maintained. This is true for all types of boats—wood, aluminum and fiberglass.

Good, anti-fouling paints are available from many sources and most boat manufacturers provide anti-fouling paint as an extra.

Anyway, Mr. Boater, when you find that your boat gradually speed over the course of a season, don't condemn the motor before you first check the condition of the boat bottom. Just a light film of scum can drastically affect performance.

Moral—clean your boat occasionally.

Obviously, a boat kept on a trailer, or used for short periods of time, will not be affected greatly by fouling conditions. However, two or three weeks of continuous exposure during summer or winter can result in some growth build-up.

Last time we pulled our 16 ft. fiberglass Invader runabout out of the water and removed the scum that had accumulated on the bottom, we got a noticeable increase in speed. That improvement was made solely because we removed the scum that was serving as a drag against the powerful 45 hp Crofton outboard motor.

We have heard that the accumulation of dirt on the exterior of an airplane would slow the plane's speed appreciably. In fact, even the paint cuts the efficiency. This seems impossible. But we're a believer now, after our experience with the boat.

So, keep your boat clean and smooth—especially that part that is under the water.

How to clean it? It really simple. Much easier that we thought.

Best method we have found is to locate a roomy loading spot, along the shore, where you won't be in the way of others. Then back your trailer into the water and winch your boat into place.

Now, roll up your trousers, or better yet don a swim suit, and give the Old Ark a good scrub-down... right where you are. Being directly over the water you eliminate the problem of hauling scrub and rinse water and of moving buckets of water along with you as you work. All you need to do now is dip down into the lake for plenty of fresh, clear water every time you need it.

We have found that the little metal kitchen scouring pads, like Chore-Girl, work better than the softer and finer soap filled types.

Another advantage of house-cleaning right over the water is you get busy immediately—before the bottom dries and the scum hardens.

And needless to say—this is a good time to give the entire boat a sparkling appearance, from bow to stern and gunwale to gunwale.

AIR POLLUTION NOT CONFINED TO PITTSBURG OR LOS ANGELES

Texans are prone to think of their state as one of wide open spaces, while the truth is, cities claim the overwhelming proportion of the State's population.

It is fallacious for Texans to think that air pollution is a problem only in Pittsburgh and Los Angeles or that Texas cities can't have their own air pollution problems.

The fact is that even small towns with a cotton gin as the sole industry offer have their own peculiar air pollution problems.

Air pollution abatement engineers from the State Health Department's Division of Occupational Health have thick files on instances of local air pollution problems in small and large cities alike.

Several Texas cities comprising large urban complexes have experienced somewhat severe air pollution conditions, especially during temperature inversions which prohibit the natural dissipation of pollutants.

However, active cooperative programs undertaken by municipal, industrial, and civic groups can do much to alleviate the air pollution problem in most cities.

Industries can install special smoke reducing apparatuses and devices which significantly reduce odor, soot, and dust.

Municipalities can utilize land-fill disposal of refuse instead of the once popular open incinerator. Cities often pass ordinances which make it mandatory for new industries to install air pollution control devices before operations can begin.

Civic groups can spread the word that everyone can do his part to control air pollution. Many experts claim automobiles as number one contributor to air pollution in some areas.

This cause can be greatly reduced by having automobiles properly tuned so that they are operating at peak efficiency. Home burning of leaves is another big contributor to air pollution, especially in the fall; and trash burning not only contributes air pollution, but is insanitary as well.

Air pollution can bring crying, sneezing, and coughing; can corrode buildings, spotch laundry, ruin paint, and generally make city living unpleasant unless everyone cooperates to hold it down. (A weekly feature from Public Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

SUSPENSE THRILLER OPENING SUNDAY AT FERGUSON THEATRE

One of the most enthralling, intelligent and thoroughly baffling suspense thrillers in motion picture annals opens Sunday at the Ferguson Theatre. The picture is "Sapphire," a Rank Organization production released by Universal-International.

Gripping suspense is sustained throughout this unusual film which starts with a sinister muffled thud that shakes one to the core. And all that can be seen at first is a small square of leaf-covered ground, and then down upon it thumps the body of a beautiful girl who has been knifed, several times, with fiendish fury, around the heart.

Up roars the cars from Scotland Yard and experts move in to the London Park where the crime has been committed in an effort for quick apprehension of the murder.

From that moment on the audience is caught up in a tense and fast-moving murder mystery unique in screen history.

Top-ranking British star Nigel Patrick is outstanding as the detective, who finally solves the mystery. His investigations at first lead him to suspect the victim's lover (Paul Massie) whose sister (Yvonne Mitchell) is struggling to raise the family lower-class environment. The case takes a surprising turn when it is discovered that the beautiful murder victim was three months pregnant.

Massie and Miss Mitchell complement Nigel Patrick with excellent performances, and Michael Craig is topnotch as Patrick's young assistant in the investigation.

Much credit for the sustained mystery of the film goes to Director Basil Dearden who has moved his color cameras into the heart of London's slum sections to vividly capture the location sequences called for in Janet Green's offbeat and thoroughly engrossing screenplay.

Hamlin, Anson And Albany Tied For Jr. High Lead

The Hamlin seventh and eighth graders will travel to Anson Tuesday night to continue their league play.

The seventh graders will play at 5:30 p.m. and the eighth graders at 7:00 p.m.

After this week's action Hamlin, Anson and Albany are in a three-way tie for first place in the Junior High Athletic Conference with all three teams owning 3-1-1 records.

Tuesday night Hamlin defeated Merkel here, 46-0 and last Thursday they lost to Albany, 44-12, in a game scheduled for Tuesday but postponed because of the rain.
